NEVADA'S RESOURCES.

The people of Nevada move along from year to year almost unconscious of the wonderful changes that are taking place in their midst. But a few brief years have passed since Nevada was regarded valuable only as a mineral district, and the man who dared to claim any agricultural advantages for the State would have been voted a crank. But behold the change. To day the agricultural wealth of the State is far ahead of the mines, and while the farming interest is rapidly increasing the mining interest is waning. The chances are that, within the next decade, in figuring the wealth of Nevada, the mines will hardly be taken into account. That there will be profitable mining in Nevada for years to come is undoubtedly true, but that the wealth and permanent prosperity of the State must, and will rest upon something more substantial is equally true. Within the past few years it has been made apparent that every inch of the sagebrush plains of Nevada can be made productive by the application of water, and although artificial irrigation is somewhat expensive, the farmer is repaid for this outlay in the assurance of an average crop at all times; whereas, in those countries where the farmer depends upon nature to do his irrigating, he sometimes has too much and sometimes not enough water, and as a result his crops are often partial, and frequently total failures. Nearly every tract of land in the State where water is available without great expense has been already located or applied for, and artesian wells and other means are being employed to supply water to lands that a few years ago was thought to be impossible, and in a very few years hence all over the Nevada deserts will be found thousands of families enjoying prosperous and happy homes.

GRANT AND PORTER.

Gen. Grant is determined to stay with Fitz John Porter if it takes all Summer. He has just written another letter giving his reasons for favoring the reinstatement and rehabilitation of that gentleman. Briefly summarized it is to the effect that Grant had supposed that Fitz John Porter had stood on his arms and allowed Pope to be whipped instead of getting in the rear of Jackson as ordered. Grant says:

" * * * 'With this understanding, and without a doubt as to the correctness of it, I condemned you. Now, on a full investigation of the facts, I find that the battle was fought on the 30th of August; that your corps, commanded directly by you in person, lost a greater percentage than any other corps engaged, that the half past four order of the day before did not reach you until midnight; that your immediate superior had cautioned you early in the day that you were too far out to the front; then that General Pope had cautioned you against bringing on an engagement, except under such circumstances as he desired, and that in any event you must be prepared to fall back behind Bull Run that night, where it would be necessary for you to be to receive supplies; that from 11 o'clock of the 29th you were confronted by a force of twice your own number, of whose presence you had positive proof, while General Pope did not know of it. This last fact is shown by the half past 4 order. It directed you to attack the enemy's right, and to get into his rear.' * * *

General Grant concludes:

" * * * 'Your whole life since your trial, as well as your service before, disproves the great burden of the charges, then sustained by a Court Martial. As long as I have a voice it shall be raised in your support, without any reference to the effect upon me or others. Your restoration to the Army simply, I would regard, as a very inadequate and unjust reparation. While men—one at least—have been restored to the army because of their gallantry and wounds after conviction and sentence, not only to be dismissed but to be confined in a penitentiary and when there is no doubt of their guilt, and given all their pay for the years they were out of service, I can see no reason for your having less. I hope for you a thorough vindication, not only by Congress, but in the minds of your countrymen.' * * *

Faithfully yours, U. S. GRANT.

Hon. E. B. Washburne, of Illinois, formerly United States Minister to France, will spend the Winter in southern California, and has rented a house at Riverside. Mr. Washburne is often mentioned as a Presidential candidate.

LET "WELL ENOUGH" ALONE.

Frank Pixley's Opinion of President Arthur's Administration.

[S. F. Argonaut, Nov. 17th.]

The nomination of President Arthur by the Republicans is becoming every day more probable, and perhaps we shall not be misunderstood when we say that his administration and himself have agreeably disappointed those who were not his political or personal friends. He came in the Presidential office by an accidental nomination and by the accident of death. He was regarded not as the leader of the party, but as the soldier of a faction within the party. His advancement to the Presidential office was looked upon, by those whom we regard as the best of Republicans, with great misgiving. There was a disposition to criticize Divine Providence for imposing upon the country one who had not been intelligently chosen for its President. His conduct, from the hour he took the oath of official duty, has, in both great and small things, commended itself to the approval of all intelligent and disinterested persons. He has acted the part of a gentleman in all things touching his personal deportment. He has seemed to be governed by the highest principles of patriotism in all affairs touching his official administration. He has not carried the ward politics of the city of New York to Washington, nor the persons with whom he was accused of intimacy to the White House. He has not in his appointments been unmindful of the fact that the Republican party embraces all its factions, and that the government demands the loyalty of all parties. We recall only one political act to criticize, and that was reformed by subsequent action. He vetoed the first Chinese bill. He approved the second. Our foreign relations have not miscarried. Our financial condition steadily improves. No political and corrupt intrigue has come to light. Economy and honesty appear to characterize the management of all departments of the Government. The political atmosphere which surrounds the President and his administration seems clear. The social atmosphere which penetrates the official residence, and surrounds the person of the President, seems pure and clear. All these things are satisfying to an intelligent public opinion, and are operating to increase the chances of President Arthur's nomination and election. The recent elections in New York, the elections in all the Northern States, the defeat of Mahone in Virginia, the temperance movement in Ohio and the North-west, the fact of a Republican Governor lately in Tennessee, a Republican Mayor in St. Louis, increasing Republican Congressmen at the South, a diminishing number of Republican Congressmen at the North, the tidal wave of two years ago that swept over the strongest Republican States of the North, the defeat of Butler and the fact that Tilden opposed him in Massachusetts, the election of Hoarley in Ohio notwithstanding the opposition of Thurman, the civil service attitude of Senator Pendleton—all these things, and a thousand other drifting political straws, indicate an independent feeling abroad in the land that is impelling a great intelligent mass of people to independent political action. This class, conservative, intelligent, and occupied with its own affairs, is content with "well enough," and disposed to let it alone. To this class of citizens, in and out of the Republican party, Arthur's administration has been acceptable. That the country is safe with him no one now has reason to doubt. His moderate, unsensational policy suits the occupied business man, is satisfactory to property owners, and affords no cause of anxiety to the great labor class. Hence, we say the nomination of President Arthur by the Republican party is becoming every day more probable.

Hand-Shaking Nuisance.

A Bradford, Pa., special gives the following incident of Grant's reception. The General came out on the platform and shook hands with over one thousand persons. Ed. Sutherland, a very tall and stout man, weighing fully three hundred pounds, pressed forward in the throng, grasped the General's hand and gave it such a grip as it had probably never before experienced. Grant's face became crimson and he was terribly mortified and annoyed. A citizen endeavored to apologize for the fellow's conduct. "When I shake hands with one thousand people," said Grant, "I can't stop to examine their hands."

Some friends of Randall said Monday night, concerning the recent elections, that the Democratic party can count upon the solid electoral vote from the Southern States in 1884. "We must have 42 electoral votes from the North to win. Suppose Carlisle is elected Speaker, the Northern men will say you bulldozed Mahone in Virginia, you elected a Southern Speaker, you have the solid Southern vote for President, and we will meet you with a solid Republican vote from the North, but if Randall is elected Speaker, this argument cannot be made, as conservative business men will see in his election a guarantee of a quiet session of Congress, free from all tariff agitation and an economical voting of the necessary appropriations."

NASBY.

Mr. Nasby has a Dream which Troubled Him Somewhat, But Not Much.

It is curious, but very late I sleepily ever get into bed or fall asleep anywhere, that I don't dream. If this thing don't stop I shall become a regular Democrat. I had a dream last night which made such a vivid impression on my mind that it is before me to-day just as distinct as it was when it came.

"Methow I was sitting in our Democratic Community Room, in charge, and was pondering onto the chances of the great event which is to come off in 1884. All at a sudden there was a blinding light, and I was in a dream world. I was in a Democratic Community room, with the sort of intensified, the life solidifying, as it were, into a tangible, growing, darker and darker, until it settled into a dim and shadowy resemblance of the forms of three men. I had no trouble in recognizing them. They were Andrew Jaxon, Martin Van Booren and James Bookannon. I offered them chairs which they accepted, smiling smiles at the courtesy, and commenced conversing affably to one another.

"Well, well!" said Jaxon, "this is a Democratic Community room. It is long since we have seen a Democratic Community room. Somehow we don't see many Democrats where we are. They are scarce as late years. They must be either long-lived, or there ain't many of 'em."

"Father of Democracy," I replied, addressing the ghost, "this is a Democratic Community room, and I am chairman of the Community. But when you say you don't see many Democrats where you are, may I ask you to your present location?"

"Certainly, my son, certainly. We are in Heaven. But how is the good coz prosperin?" asked Jaxon. "You are approachin the conflict uv 1884, and we trust you hev matters so arranged ez to make success certain."

"I hev faith that we shall win the fight," I replied.

"On wat do you base your hopes, may I ask?"

"Certin," I said. "To begin with, we hev in our interest the great majority uv the gin mills, all uv 'em, in fact, in New York, and with the repeaters in that City, and the plunder uv cities to kerry elections, do you?"

"Bless your innocent soul, you ought to be interdoost to Sammy Tilden, our standard bearer," I replied.

Andrew's face grew darker and darker.

"Go on," said he, "what else?"

"Well, we hev sold and shooed all the lower grade uv the Irish populusheen, all uv 'em wiah vote whether they hev bin unteached or not, them in New York and Chicago wiah we immediately put onto the piece force, after they vote, and wiah are convenient to do our raffish. We hev them shoor, and in big cities they are very yooseful to us. You see a healthy, active one will vote four and five times in a day, besides doing other work that's necessary."

The three uv 'em choked ez the suthin wuz stickin in their throats.

"Go on," they said, "wat else?"

"Well, owing to the ackshen uv some uv the Republikan legislators tain the sale uv likker, and such things, we hev seokored a fair share uv the German vote, tho that is not reliable for us. But to make up that we hev corralled the nigger vote in the South. We yoose shotguns ez persuaders, and ef a nigger won't vote with us wiah he don't vote at all. It ain't helthy for a nigger to appear at the poles with a Republikan ticket in any uv the Southern States, and they are consequently sold for us."

"May I ask?" said Jaxon, "ez to the precise principles professed by the glorious old party now? Time has passed since I managed it, and time has doubtless modified the views that party take uv measures. Wat are the distinctive principles uv the Democracy now?"

"Post office!" I replied promptly.

"Do you take any possishen on the Tariff?"

"Certin. We hev a large and varied assortment uv principles on the Tariff. In Pennsylvania we are for Tariff Reform with a leenin toward Free Trade, and wiah we don't eggskully know wat the people want we are for Tariff Reform pure and simple. Ez the dry goods merchants say in their advertisements 'we aim to please.'"

That stunned Van Booren, and Jaxon's face grew ez black ez a thunder cloud.

"Wat is your possishen on Nashnel bankin?" he demanded in the thundering tones I ever heard a goat yoose.

"About uv a wiahich with our possishen on the Tariff. Wiah they want Nashnel banks we let 'em hev 'em. In the East we are for Nashnel banks, and in the West we vary all the way from nat money to silver dollars, jest as the people hev a noshun."

"And internal improvements?"

"Nobody can ketch us nappin there. Along the Mississippi and the grate lakes we are internal improvers, and off them lines we ain't. All them questions we leave for fuchser decision. We want, first, a kidge into Samyooel's bin, and after that hez done its perfect work, post office. Wat sed the apposel 'be ye all things to all men.'"

In a munit the fiery Jaxon seized me by the throat with his spirit hands.

"And this is the party I made! This is the organization that I foundid and left ez the pektaker of American liberty and for the promulgashun of tru Americanideel! Wiahst a party with fixed principles—now a party dependin on bought votes, the support uv unquaralized Irish, gin mills and Tilden's dollars! A party wiah hez a varied assortment uv principles, one thing is one seckshun and another in another! A party wiah rekwires a speaker who makes a tour uv the kentry to hev at least six speeches to suit different seckshuns, and to be mighty keeful that he don't get his macroscops mixed in a mites travel. An near ez I ken see" roared the grate

Jaxon, jedgin from the classes uv people the Democracy uv to-day is huntin for, a clean shirt bars a man out of the organization, a tooth-brush wud be treason to the party, and a Sunday skool wud demoralize the entire concern. We didn't hunt gin mills in my day for recruits, nor did we object to havin the best class uv citizens act with us. Democracy! I apose a man couldn't sit in Democracy caucus now if he didn't hev a certifikit from a 'slooin keeper. Free Trade and Tariff—Nashnel Banks and Fiat money—for and agin internal improvement. I suppose you are ekally liberal in the matter uv States' rites?

"Certinly," I sed, "in the South we held to that doctrine like a hog to a root and in the North we anse off into opposition to dangerous centralized power. See! here is a assortment uv Tilden's campaign documents, adapted to different seckshuns, which we yooseed in 1876."

"Bah!" "bah!" "bah!" they all exclaimed in chorus. And they spit ez they hev suthin in their mouths that didn't taste well.

There wuz a clap of thunder and they wuz gone.

It wasn't a clap uv thunder at all—I simply felt off my chair.

I wuz glad it wuz only a dream. The fact is I am glad Jaxon, Van Booren and even Bookannon, kam come back to us only ez ghosts. If they shood ever appear in real flesh and blood I shoodnt want to be in the imaseit vicinity. Ther noshuns uv ruinin campanes, and ours, don't eggskully gibe. However, wiah they are they can't interfere, and ez the present managers uv the party will never go where they are, and will never stand face to face them, it don't matter.

Still, I prefer not to dream such dreems. I must quit etin hard-biled eggs after 12 at nite.

FREDERICK DOUGLASS

Advises the Colored Voter to Stick to the Republican Party

The Hon. Fred Douglass recently addressed a large audience at Denton, Md., in which he advised the colored voter to stick to the Republican party. In the course of his speech he said:

In our case ingratitudes would be a dangerous thing, for when we cut loose from the party that gave us freedom we give notice that whatever the Democratic party should do would excite in us no gratitude whatever. The proposition for us to take an independent position is nonsense. Every step men take in this life they must depend on something or somebody. We are all dependent. When I took the train to come to Denton I was dependent upon the conductor and engineer. And so in respect to politics. We have to depend upon one party or the other. If we depend upon ourselves alone we place ourselves in a position of great danger, for we would thereby alienate from us both parties. Neither would we have any motive for consulting our favor, and the time might come when these two white parties might say that the black element was unmanageable, and since, in the past, the whites were able to govern the country without the colored vote, they might conclude to do the same thing agin. Don't be discouraged by the recent decision of the Supreme Court against the Civil Rights law. We will enjoy the same privileges we did before the law was pronounced unconstitutional, and then we will have, I believe at an early day, a law enacted guaranteeing the same rights, and it will be so constituted that no Supreme Court can upset it. To do anything politically you must act with one party or the other. "By their fruits ye shall know them," applies here as elsewhere. The Democratic party has been the life-long, inflexible, persistent enemy of every act of justice proposed for the colored people. The Republicans, on the other hand, have been the active and aggressive advocates of every measure which has thus far contributed to our freedom and progress. We should all vote the Republican ticket until we get something better. Until then, we must make it too hot for any one of our race who goes the wrong way.

Senator Fair.

Senator Fair informed a New York interviewer Sunday at the Gilsey House: "I am here seeking rest and recuperation before proceeding to Washington. I was taken very sick in Chicago and compelled to have my children proceed alone to their school in California. I find the climate of the East agrees with me much better than that of the Pacific Slope. I have refused to be interviewed on politics or on my domestic affairs. Events to come will vindicate me. I am devoting my spare moments to the welfare of my children, my mining property in and about Nevada and the approaching session of Congress. These are sufficient to occupy my time."

The Virginia Chronicle says that for whatever the future may have in store for us in the line of prosperity, will be due almost exclusively to the tenacious enterprise and liberal expenditures of James G. Fair. If that be the case, the prospect is certainly a gloomy one.—Gazette.

We shall not be surprised to hear of the Senator's sudden demise by heart disease.

The Colusa Sun, one of the oldest Democratic journals on the Pacific Coast, has half made up its mind that Butler is the map for the Democrats to nominate for President.

Oakland, Me., makes more scythes than any other place in the world. Last year it made 28,000 dozen scythes and 17,000 dozen axes. The town also has a woolen mill that turns out 40,000 yards a month, and talks about a cotton mill all run by water power.

HIS OWN EXECUTOR.

A Well-Known Gentleman's Philanthropy and the Commotion Caused by One of His Letters.

Rochester Democrat and Chronicle.

We published in our local columns yesterday morning a significant letter from a gentleman known personally or by reputation to nearly every person in the land. We have received a number of letters protesting against the use of our columns for such "palpable frauds and misrepresentations;" therefore to confirm beyond a doubt the authenticity of the letter, and the genuineness of its sentiments, a reporter of this paper was commissioned to ascertain all the possible facts in the matter. Accordingly he visited Clifton Springs, saw the author of the letter, and with the following result.

Dr. Henry Foster, the gentleman in question, is 63 or 64 years of age, and has an extremely cordial manner. He presides as superintendent over the celebrated sanitarium, which accommodates over 500 guests, and is unquestionably the leading health resort of the country. Several years ago this benevolent man wisely determined to be his own executor; and, therefore turned over his own magnificent property, worth $300,000, as a free gift to a board of trustees, representing the principal evangelical denominations. Among the trustees are Bishop A. C. Cox, Protestant Episcopal, Buffalo; Bishop Mathew Simpson, Philadelphia, Methodist Episcopal; President M. B. Anderson, of the University of Rochester; Rev. Dr. Clark, Secretary of the A. B. C. F. M., Boston. The benevolent purpose of the institution is the care, first, of evangelical missionaries and their families whose health has been broken in their work. Second—of ministers, of any denominations, in good standing. Third—of members of any church, who otherwise would be unable to secure such care and treatment. The current expenses of the institution are met by the receipts from the hundreds of distinguished and wealthy people who every year crowd its utmost capacity. Here comes men and women, who were once in perfect health, but neglected the first symptoms of disease. The uncertain pains they felt at first were overlooked until their health became impaired. They little realized the danger before them, nor how alarming even trifling ailments might prove. They constitute all classes, including ministers and bishops, lawyers, judges, statesmen, millionaires, journalists, college professors and officials from all parts of the land.

Diawing the morning Democrat and Chronicle from his pocket, the reporter remarked, "Doctor, that letter of yours has created a good deal of talk, and many of our readers have questioned its authenticity."

"To what do you refer?" remarked the doctor.

"Have you not seen the paper?"

"Yes, but I have not had time to read it."

The reporter thereupon showed him the letter, which was as follows:

CLIFTON SPRINGS SANITARIUM Co., CLIFTON SPRINGS, N. Y., Oct. 11, '83.

DEAR SIR, I am using Warner's Safe Cure, and I regard it as the best remedy for some of the kidney diseases that we have. I am watching with great care some cases I am now treating with it, and I hope for favorable results.

I wish you might come down yourself, as I would like very much to talk with you about your sterling remedy, and show you over our institution.

Yours truly,

(Signed). HENRY FOSTER, M. D.

"I do not see why anybody should be skeptical concerning that letter," remarked the doctor.

"Isn't it unusual for a physician of your standing and influence to commend a proprietary preparation?"

"I don't know how it may be with others, but in this institution we allow no person to dictate to us what we shall use. Our purpose is to cure the sick, and for that work we use anything we know to be valuable. Because I know Warner's Safe Cure is a very valuable preparation, I commend it. As its power is manifested under my use, so shall I add to the completeness of my commendation."

"Have you ever analyzed it, doctor?"

"We always analyze before we try any preparation of which we do not know the constituents. But analysis, you know, only gives the elements; it does not give the all-important proportions. The remarkable power of Warner's Safe Cure undoubtedly consists in the proportions according to which its elements are mixed." While there may be a thousand remedies made of the same elements, unless they are put together in proper proportions, they are worthless as kidney and liver preparations.

"I hope some day to meet Mr. Warner personally, and extend fuller congratulations to him on the excellence of his preparation. I have heard much of him as the founder of the Warner Observatory, and as a man of large benevolence. The reputed high character of the man himself gave assurance to me in the first place that he would not put a remedy upon the market that was not trustworthy; and it was a source of a good deal of gratification to me to find out by actual experiment that the remedy itself sustained my impressions."

The conclusion reached by Dr. Foster is precisely the same found by Dr. Dio Lewis, Dr. Robert A. Gunn, ex Surgeon General Gallagher and others, and proves beyond a doubt the great efficiency of the remedy which has awakened so much attention in the land, and rescued so many men, women and children from disease and death.

A Castleton, Vt., minister has preached fifty years on a salary ranging from $250 to $1,000. Now he has retired, has 250 yards of carpet and four stoves and five scattered through the country and doing well.

181 WEST TENTH STREET, NEW YORK, August 11, 1880.

Messrs. SEABURY & JOHNSON, Gentlemen:—Like most of my profession, I am cautious about pinning my faith to any new medicine or curative agent. But your BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTER has broken through the barriers and won its way to my good opinion. My attention was first called to it some eight months ago by a patient of mine. Although I was well acquainted with the superior excellence of your other plaster and antiseptic dressing, made especially for the profession, the Benson's was comparatively new to me. I had heard, however, of its merits as a remedy in cases of Lame Back, Local Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Congestion of the Bronchial Tubes and Lungs, Dyspepsia, Prolid Liver and the like affections, and have since begun to experiment with it personally.

And BENSON'S CAPSINE PLASTER an exceptionally cleanly plaster to use, and rapid in its action. Many tests of its qualities, made in my own family and among my patients, have convinced me that there is no other stogie article so valuable for popular use, nor so helpful in the diseases I have named.

Should you desire to do so, you may use my name to that effect.

Very truly yours,

H. H. KANE, A. M., M. D.

Reno and Carson.

The Carson Appeal says: "There has of late years sprung up between Reno and Carson a keen rivalry as to which is the livelier town of the two. Gradually Reno has been taking the lead, and the reason of that is the fact that Reno people spend all their money at home and Carson people send theirs abroad. There are too many Carsons who run on the cheap plan and send to New York and San Francisco for what they want, on the ground that they can not get them here simply because merchants find it a losing policy to keep a stock of certain articles which are never called for because somebody can save a dollar or two by sending to New York or elsewhere. This penny wise and pound foolish policy is slowly supplanting the vitality of Carson, and it is time to realize the fact that a change of tactics would be desirable. The wide awake Renos never send a cent abroad, as they would rather pay 25 per cent more every time and keep the money circulating at home. This is what gives Reno its prosperity. Will the people of Carson never realize until it is too late that they must adopt that policy or stay in the rear?"

Good Things For Thanksgiving.

The cold weather has broken up most of the Pinte gambling resorts, and they have adjourned to the new board house recently constructed by them east of town. Here the big gambling is done. The children and impecunious men and women keep up a sagebrush fire while the blooded gamblers manipulate the cards.

A Marriage in Very High Life.

Patriot William O'Brien, the Irish Giant, and Christina D. Danse, the German giantess, were married in Pittsburgh, Pa., Tuesday. The ceremony was performed in the German Evangelical Church, and was witnessed by a numerous concourse of people, including the Mayor and Council of Pittsburgh, the Mayor of Allegheny, John McCullough, Margaret Mather, the Astec dwarfs, Indians and snake charmers. Outside of the church a crowd gathered in such numbers as to obstruct traffic in spite of the efforts of a large force of police.

O'Brien wore a full dress suit, and the medal presented to him by the Irish Land League ornamented his breast. The bride wore an orange blossom wreath and a veil that covered a superb dress of white satin. In her hand she carried a bouquet of enormous size. After the wedding service the bridal party drove at once to the museum and held a public reception.

The wedding cake is the largest ever made, measuring nine feet in circumference and three feet in thickness. A great loaf of bread five feet long will decorate the banquet table. This was the first marriage of giants in America and the second in the world. The combined height of the happy couple is fifteen feet, three inches, and they tip the beam at 549 pounds. The wedding ring weighed seventeen pennyweights and was five inches in circumference.

Vandervoort Denounced.

Custer Post, Grand Army of the Republic, at Omaha, of which Paul Vandervoort is a member passed resolutions Monday night denouncing the action of the Grand Army reunion at Hastings for attempting to uphold Vandervoort in the face of his misconduct in railway mail service. These resolutions have been pending for more than six weeks, were held over and Vandervoort himself made a pitiful attempt to prevent their passage.

Samuel J. Tilden, it appears, is not playing such a silent hand regarding the Speakership fight as was imagined. Not long ago a Democratic member of the Ohio delegation called upon Mr. Tilden in New York. The sage of Gramercy and Greystone said to this member: "The way to elect a Democratic President in 1884 is to make Mr. Randall Speaker of the next House of Representatives."

President Arthur's cabinet is thus described by a writer in the Troy Times: "Brewster is the most punctilious member, Frelinghuysen the most aristocratic, Lincoln the quietest, Graham the ablest, Folger the most judicial. Teller and Chandler are the two who keep track of things generally and the hardest workers."

Governor elect Robinson, of Massachusetts, does not intend to resign his seat in Congress at present, but will probably go to Washington in December, and assist in the organization of the House, as his predecessor, Governor Banks, did twenty years ago.

The delinquent list of the California is published. It is quite lengthy, but not so long as some of the earlier publications. There is one certificate for 1,500 shares and twelve for 1,000 shares. The others are for 500 shares down to 5 shares, and there are several hundred in all.

A strong effort is being made to have the Republican Presidential Convention held in Cincinnati.

Every prudent man is clad in a style becoming the climate in which he lives; prudent men, therefore, buy their Fall and Winter clothing at the White House.

A patent medicine advertisement reads: "Fifty dollars reward to any one who will produce a case of liver complaint that our bitters will not cure." This generous offer will undoubtedly occasion great rivalry among the leading producers of liver complaint and stimulate them to renewed exertions.—[Lowell Citizen.]

Dr. Pierce's "Pleasant Purgative Pellets" are sugar-coated and inclosed in glass bottles, their virtues being thereby preserved unimpaired for any length of time, in any climate, so that they are always fresh and reliable. No cheap wooden or paste-board boxes. By druggists.

A Card.

William Pinniger tenders his best thanks to his numerous friends, and the public generally, for the very liberal support accorded him in the past, and he begs to inform them that he has again effected a co-partnership with R. E. Queen, at the old stand, and respectfully invites a continuance of their patronage. The new firm have added largely to their stock of drugs, chemicals, patent medicines, wines and liquors for medicinal purposes; toilet and fancy articles, etc. In the dispensing departments they make a specialty of physicians' prescriptions and family receipts, bringing to their already large experience the latest achievements in scientific pharmacy, and are prompt in filling all orders intrusted to them.

Advice to Mothers.

Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething. Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers, there is no mistake about it. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething is pleasant to the taste, and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggists throughout the world. Price 25 cents a bottle. Feb. 21-awf-lyr

Accident at Osburn & Shoemaker's.

As our reporter passed Osburn & Shoemaker's he saw a crowd of ladies gathered there and found that the trouble was a fall in the price of artists' materials. They are selling all kinds at actual cost—plaques, brushes, paints, and everything in that line.

The hair is frequently rendered prematurely gray by care, grief, delicate health, lowness of spirits, or a depressed tone of the vital powers. The use of Hall's Vegetable Sicilian Hair Renewer, will restore its youthful color and beauty.

Absolutely Pure.

This powder never varies. A marvel of purity, strength, and wholesomeness. More economical than the ordinary kinds, and cannot be sold in competition with the multitude of low test, short-weight, alum or phosphate powders. Sold only in cans. ROYAL BAKING POWDER CO., NEW YORK.

To Dyspeptics.

The most common signs of Dyspepsia, or indigestion, are an oppression at the stomach, nausea, flatulency, water-brash, heart-burn, vomiting, loss of appetite, and constipation. Dyspeptic patients suffer untold miseries, bodily and mental. They should stimulate the digestion, and secure regular daily action of the bowels, by the use of moderate doses of Ayer's Pills.

After the bowels are regulated, one of these Pills, taken each day after dinner, is usually all that is required to complete the cure.

AYER'S PILLS are sugar-coated and purely vegetable—a pleasant, entirely safe, and reliable medicine for the cure of all disorders of the stomach and bowels. They are the best of all purgatives for family use.
